

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Department: Evolution, Ecology and Organismal Biology
Position: Integrative Vertebrate Biologist
Rank: Assistant Professor

Description:

The Department of Evolution, Ecology and Organismal Biology (EEOB, eeob.osu.edu) at The Ohio State University (www.osu.edu) seeks applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor with a research focus in integrative vertebrate biology. The successful candidate will have demonstrated the potential to develop a leading research program in vertebrate organismal biology, with a possible focal area in, but not limited to, behavioral ecology (investigating the evolution and ecology of organismal behavior), organismal adaptation (investigating adaptation to changing environments using genomic or other techniques), or ecophysiology (investigating interactions between the physiological function of an organism and its environment in an evolutionary context).

The successful applicant will be expected to develop a strong externally funded research program, train graduate students, and be committed to developing into an excellent teacher at the undergraduate and graduate level. In addition, the successful applicant will be committed to the potential broader impacts of an academic position, e.g., broadening participation from underrepresented groups or increasing societal awareness about challenges and potential solutions to local and global problems.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a Ph. D. or equivalent, preferably with postdoctoral research experience, and a strong record of research funding and publication. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about Columbus is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7955>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Evidence of professional service and leadership activities, including those that build diversity in the discipline, also will be considered in the evaluation of applications. Applications received prior to October 31, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Bryan Carstens at carstens.12@osu.edu.
